

College Prospects of America

CPOA Western PA is part of the globally recognized College Prospects of America Inc. founded in 1986 and based in Logan, Ohio. The largest organization of its kind in the world proudly helps school athletes and their families in 4 continents maximize their opportunities for athletic participation and scholarships in college.

Operating in Western PA since 1993, the student athletes we help locally represent students from every major sport in most of the area school districts. Our mission is to offer guidance, experience, and exposure to high school athletes and their parents and to generate admissions, playing and scholarship opportunities based on the student athlete's educational, personal, and athletic needs. Our process is personal and strategically focused in order to make a significant difference in the future of the student athlete.
